38. - 40. soruları aşağıdaki parçaya göre cevaplayınız.

Constructed in 1348 by the Genoese, the Galata Tower was initially called the Jesus Tower and was designed to enhance the security of the Galata neighbourhood and the surrounding area. When the Ottomans captured the city about a century after the construction of the Galata Tower they converted it first into a prison and later into a fire observation tower as its 60 m height lent itself ideally to this use. The reformminded Ottoman Sultan Mahmut II rebuilt the Tower that had been damaged by subsequent earthquakes and endemic fires. According to the existing plan the Galata Tower was restored once again in the 1960s. With its history and the breathtaking İstanbul view, the Galata Tower offers a unique insight into İstanbul.

- C) the Galata Tower was damaged in the 1960 earthquake
- D) throughout history the Galata Tower has been used for different purposes
- E) some people tried to fly from the Galata Tower

39. Which of the following can be understood from the passage?

- A) The height of the tower is more than 60 metres.
- B) The Galata Tower was erected in 1348 in order to increase the security in the district.
- C) The Galata Tower offers the best panoramic views of the city.
- D) The Galata Tower was the highpoint in the city walls of the Genoese colony.
- E) The walls are long gone, but the great tower remains.

40. Which of the following conclusions could be drawn from the passage?

- A) The Galata Tower did not only serve for defence purposes and as a watchtower, but it was also a part of the communications system.
- B) The big stone tower, with its conical top, is a landmark on İstanbul's skyline.
- C) For centuries, Galata, as a residence, has sheltered people from different origins and races.
- D) Due to its altitude, it is possible to view almost half of old İstanbul from the Galata Tower.
